

Focus Points

"Focus Points" are short activities that draw students into the lesson. They take only a few minutes to do. Many can be used as quick-start activities to engage the students and focus their attention at the beginning of class. Others may fit well during the lesson to reinforce a point and drive it home. Still others may serve as good wrap-up activities. "Focus Points" come in many forms. Choose and use them as you see fit.

For this activity, give everyone a slip of paper at the beginning of class. Read the statements to them in quick succession (they all refer to Ephesus) and tell them to name the place on their paper. Whether they know the answer or not, this warm-up activity will get them ready to learn about Paul's work at Ephesus.
