

Focus Points

"Focus Points" are short activities that draw students into the lesson. They take only a few minutes to do. Many can be used as quick-start activities to engage the students and focus their attention at the beginning of class. Others may fit well during the lesson to reinforce a point and drive it home. Still others may serve as good wrap-up activities. "Focus Points" come in many forms. Choose and use them as you see fit.

Suggestion for this activity: display the questions on a chart or blackboard for everyone to see. Tell your students to write a one-word answer on a slip of paper and give it to you. When all the papers are in, read the answers aloud. Are there any interesting variations in their answers?

Additional suggestion: talk about the meaning of FAITH that these statements and Bible passages reveal.
