

Multiple Choice Bible Games

Prepare several multiple choice questions on any Bible subject you wish. For example, here's a question for a Bible Facts game:

1 – How many books are in the Bible?

A – 27 B – 39 C – 54 D – 66

Organize participants into small teams. Give each team a set of large cards marked A, B, C, and D.

Read out a multiple choice question and its answer choices. On the count of ten, each team holds up the card that they think represents the correct answer. Correct answers get a point.

Variations. (1) Seat the teams equidistant from you. Read out a question. The first team to bring the correct answer card to you wins the point. But be prepared. This is a very active way to play the game! (2) The same as (1), but tamed down a little: let every team that brings you a correct answer card win a point.

More ideas. (1) Project the questions on a screen or wall for everyone to see.¹ This adds a visual component to the game and helps make sure that the questions and answer choices are clearly understood. (2) A fast moving game is fun, but occasionally you might want to slow the pace a little and include questions that require teams to open their Bibles.
